ABOUT THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Merv Fingas, Ph.D., is Chief, Emergencies Sciences Division, Environment Canada. His research specialties are the properties, behavior, and modeling of hazardous materials, especially oil. A member of the editorial board of the Journal of Hazardous Materials, he also edits Spill Technology Newsletter, published by Environment Canada. He is a member of the executive committee of the ASTM F-20 on spill standards. He has over 450 publications.
The situation with respect to hazardous materials has changed very much in the last 20 years. For example, the sophistication of spill modeling has increased significantly.

As an all-new update to the classic Hazmat reference book, this text addresses issues such as International law and regulations, risk assessment, biological effects, spill modeling, and more.
